Hi [Manager's Name],

As part of my ongoing training and development, I would love the opportunity to attend Oktane: September 24-26, 2025 at Caesars Forum, in Las Vegas, NV.

Not only would I be one of the first to hear what's on Okta's roadmap — namely how Okta secures AI — but Oktane offers deep technical sessions, hands-on workshops, and has an immersive Expo Hall (filled with partners in the Okta Integration Network). I think the insights I'd gain would benefit our organization and help us become an identity-first company.

Oktane is a reasonably priced conference, but I know budgets are tight, so here's an outline of the expected costs. And, if I register before July 30, there's a $200 savings.

- Early bird registration: $699 (Oktane Standard pass)
- Airfare: $[value]
- Hotel: $129 - $209 per night (plus taxes)
- Transportation: $[value]

Once I come back from Oktane, I'll share key takeaways and quick wins that we can implement immediately.

Thank you for your consideration!

Best,
[Your Name]
