This document contains third party open source licenses and notices for the Okta Access Gateway product. Certain licenses and notices may appear in other parts of the product in accordance with the applicable license requirements.

The Okta product that this document references does not necessarily use all the open source software packages referred to below and may also only use portions of a given package. In addition, Okta makes available to customers certain complementary, unmodified open source software packages that facilitate customers’ use of the Okta Access Gateway product.

Third Party Notices

acl

Version (if any): 2.2.51-14.el7
Brief Description: Access control list utilities
License(s): GPL v2.0

AICA Firmware

This firmware is licenced under the KOS licence - a modified form of the BSD licence (for details see http://gamedev.allusion.net/softprj/kos/faq.php).

It is fully and freely distributable provided the following notice is preserved somewhere in the code: Copyright (c) Dan Potter 2000.

The code this firmware was built with is part of the KOS distribution and can also be reviewed here: http://linuxdc.cvs.sourceforge.net/linuxdc/linux-sh-dc/sound/oss/aica/firmware/ This program is free software; you can redistribute it and/or modify it under the terms of the KOS License.

This program is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. See the KOS License (README.KOS) for more details.

You should have received a copy of the KOS License along with this program; if not, please visit Cryptic Allusion DCDev at:
http://dcdev.allusion.net/

The text of that license follows. In layman's terms, all it really Okta Access Gateway
Third Party Licenses and Notices says is that you have to give credit where credit is due (both in derived source files and binary compilations; a credit in the documentation is ok) and there is no warranty.

In addition, as the copyright holder of CUPS, Apple Inc. grants the following special exceptions:

1. Apple Operating System Development License Exception;

   a. Software that is developed by any person or entity for an Apple Operating System ("Apple OS-Developed Software"), including but not limited to Apple and third party printer drivers, filters, and backends for an Apple Operating System, that is linked to the CUPS imaging library or based on any sample filters or backends provided with CUPS shall not be considered to be a derivative work or collective work based on the CUPS program and is exempt from the mandatory source code release clauses of the GNU GPL. You may therefore distribute linked combinations of the CUPS imaging library with Apple OS-Developed Software without releasing the source code of the Apple OS-Developed Software. You may also use sample filters and backends provided with CUPS to develop Apple OS-Developed Software without releasing the source code of the Apple OS-Developed Software.

   b. An Apple Operating System means any operating system software developed and/or marketed by Apple Inc., including but not limited to all existing releases and versions of Apple's Darwin, OS X, and OS X Server products and all follow-on releases and future versions thereof.

   c. This exception is only available for Apple OS-Developed Software and does not apply to software that is distributed for use on other operating systems.

   d. All CUPS software that falls under this license exception have the following text at the top of each source file:

This file is subject to the Apple OS-Developed Software exception.

2. OpenSSL Toolkit License Exception; Apple Inc. explicitly allows the compilation and distribution of the CUPS software with the OpenSSL Toolkit.

No developer is required to provide these exceptions in a derived work.

1. This software is distributed in the hope that it will be useful, but WITHOUT ANY WARRANTY; without even the implied warranty of MERCHANTABILITY or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

2. The origin of this software must not be misrepresented, either by explicit claim or by omission. In practice, this means that if you use PCRE in software that you distribute to others, commercially or otherwise, you must put a sentence like this Regular expression support is provided by the PCRE library package, which is open source software, written by Philip Hazel, and copyright by the University of Cambridge, England.

   somewhere reasonably visible in your documentation and in any relevant files or online help data or similar. A reference to the ftp site for the source, that is, to should also be given in the documentation. However, this condition is not intended to apply to whole chains of software. If package A includes PCRE, it must acknowledge it, but if package B is software that includes package A, the condition is not imposed on package B (unless it uses PCRE independently).

3. Altered versions must be plainly marked as such, and must not be misrepresented as being the original software.

4. If PCRE is embedded in any software that is released under the GNU General Purpose Licence (GPL), or Lesser General Purpose Licence (LGPL), then the terms of that licence shall supersede any condition above with which it is incompatible.
