License Management

Okta's Google Apps provisioning integration reduces costs and improves security by automatically assigning different sets of licenses to individual users and groups. Business, IT, and external users can be provisioned just the Google Apps for Work services they need.

Flexible Profile Mastering

Organizations can support any IT or business rule for user provisioning with the flexibility to drive the user identity lifecycle from Okta, Google Apps, an HR application like Workday, or Active Directory (AD). Many organizations begin by assigning new users email. With Okta, creating a new email account in Google Apps for Work can trigger the provisioning of all of a user's accounts.

Simple Active Directory Integration

Okta easily integrates Google Apps for Work with multiple AD domains or forests without deploying Google Active Directory Sync (GADS). Okta's light-weight AD Agent can import, update, and provision accounts in AD without making any changes to firewall rules.
